A YEAR LIKE NO OTHER

"I AM GRATEFUL FOR THE DEDICATED EFFORTS OF THE BOARD, STATE PROGRAMS, VOLUNTEERS, PARTNERS AND STAFF, WHICH MADE 2020 A CREATIVE AND SUCCESSFUL YEAR. "

RACHEL MALEH

FOR ALMOST 50 YEARS, OPERATION LIFESAVER, INC. (OLI) HAS PROVIDED THE RAIL SAFETY MESSAGE IN COMMUNITIES ACROSS THE COUNTRY THROUGH FREE IN-PERSON PRESENTATIONS, PARTICIPATION IN EVENTS, AND MORE.

The national office, working with State Coordinators and Operation Lifesaver Authorized Volunteers (OLAVs) in 46 states and the District of Columbia, know their audiences and how to seek the best venues and opportunities to share the rail safety message. The organization's grassroots efforts helped spread the rail safety message to over 2.5 million people in 2019, and we were well positioned to exceed that in 2020.

THEN CAME COVID-19 AND THE GLOBAL PANDEMIC.

What we originally thought would be a pause in normal operations for a few weeks or months turned into a long, tough year. I'm proud to say that despite the challenges faced by the organization and the individuals who make up the Operation Lifesaver, Inc. family, we had an innovative and successful year.

In midyear, two new staff members were virtually onboarded, rounding out our small but mighty staff of four. With new staff in place, we were able to quickly pivot and develop tools and resources for online platforms as well as provide virtual meeting accounts for our volunteers. But we also realized that this wasn't enough — we needed to provide training so that the message was confidently shared in a virtual setting as well as in person.

Several of our training materials were already available for virtual delivery, such as our eLearning modules for professional drivers, school bus drivers and first responders. Our education team transformed some of our most recent presentation materials into videos and games for educators, students and parents to use during remote schooling.

As many Americans were spending more time online, we expanded our social media presence, which resulted in an increase of 15% in website users and a 7% increase in total website sessions over 2019. Social media impressions rose 76% and followers rose 8% from the previous year. In addition, we created new public service announcements (PSAs) for key audiences and completely updated our collateral materials, developing more than 200 new assets in both English and Spanish.

While travel was on hold, I was fortunate to represent the organization at online meetings and participated in more conferences in 2020 than the previous year. Despite changing the usual Rail Safety Week (RSW) in-person events to online observances, we still saw increases in several metrics.

As difficult as 2020 was, the organization remains financially stable and had another clean audit. Our partners have remained strong supporters and we continue to build our partnership base on both a national and local level.

This annual report is a snapshot of our 2020 successes — I hope our work and people come alive to you as you read it, and that you are motivated to join us and share the rail safety message. I invite you to visit our website, oli.org, and follow us on social media to gain a more comprehensive view of our work and impact. I am grateful for the dedicated efforts of the board, state programs, volunteers, partners and staff, which made 2020 a creative and successful year.

OLI ED TESTIFIED BEFORE HOUSE RAILROAD SUBCOMMITTEE HEARING

February 5, 2020,
Washington, D.C.

Operation Lifesaver, Inc. (OLI) Executive Director Rachel Maleh testified at a hearing on February 5 before the Subcommittee on Railroads, Pipelines and Hazardous Materials of the House Transportation & Infrastructure Committee. The hearing's theme was Tracking Toward Zero: Improving Grade Crossing Safety and Addressing Community Concerns. Maleh discussed efforts by Operation Lifesaver state programs across the country to educate the public on how to be safe at grade crossings and along railroad rights of way.

She explained that OLI leverages federal grant funding to conduct crossing safety and trespass prevention campaigns and projects throughout the U.S., and talked about how OLI works with safety partners including federal, state and local government agencies, highway safety organizations, America's railroads and railway suppliers.

TWO REGIONAL MEETINGS HELD

Just two of the usual eight Operation Lifesaver, Inc. (OLI) Regional Meetings were held in 2020 before COVID-19 lockdowns began: the Region 1 Meeting, held in Boston in February, and the Region 5 Meeting, held in Oklahoma City in early March.

EXPANDED VIRTUAL TRAINING FOR VOLUNTEERS

As schools and businesses shut down during the COVID-19 pandemic, the Operation Lifesaver, Inc. (OLI) education team worked to transform OLI safety education materials and delivery systems from in-person to virtual by:

- Providing resources for volunteers to offer virtual safety education
- Training volunteers in effective virtual presentation techniques
- Reimagining several rail safety presentations into virtual materials

The OLI education team offered Zoom accounts and training for State Coordinators, Coaches and Operation Lifesaver Authorized Volunteers (OLAVs) so they could continue sharing the rail safety message – virtually. How-to guides for using Zoom were produced, along with virtual Facilitation Guides specific to OLI's materials.

Eight hands-on webinars were held to train volunteers in using these online tools. Three additional webinars were conducted to teach OLAVs how to use virtual Facilitation Guides and run the activities specifically outlined in the guides.

OLI also created dashboards in the website's password-protected community area to provide Coaches and OLAVs with additional virtual training resources and materials.

STATE PROGRAMS TOOK CREATIVE APPROACHES TO RAIL SAFETY EDUCATION IN A PANDEMIC:

Operation Lifesaver State Coordinators, Coaches and Volunteers provide free presentations with safety messages tailored to their audiences.

Operation Lifesaver Authorized Volunteers, or OLAVs, are instrumental in educating the public on the dangers of being on or around tracks.

Photo: In August of 2020, Ohio Operation Lifesaver (OH OL) partnered with the Kaubisch Public Library in Fostoria to create window displays for patrons to see during contactless hold pick up. Volunteer Ellen Gatrell was instrumental in this creative outreach. OH OL also provided age-appropriate materials for the library's summer reading packets.

"Yarn Bombing" Display, News Coverage Enhanced Visibility

Nebraska Operation Lifesaver (NE OL) decorated a tree with colorful yarn and rail safety messages in Grand Island as part of a pre-Nebraska State Fair event showcasing local nonprofit organizations, winning 2nd place for their display! NE OL Volunteer Debra Ashworth, who organized the display, was featured in a television news story.

State Coordinators Continued to Provide Volunteer Training and Support

Operation Lifesaver State Coordinators recruit, train and manage their Operation Lifesaver Authorized Volunteers (OLAVs) to deliver free rail safety presentations to school groups, driver education classes, community members, professional drivers, law enforcement officers and emergency responders across their states.

#REDOUT FOR RAIL SAFETY EFFORTS WENT VIRTUAL

The pandemic didn't dampen the enthusiasm for participating in #RedOutForRailSafety day! Schools, companies, Operation Lifesaver state programs and partners joined in the fun by wearing red on Friday, September 25 and sharing selfies and virtual group images to social media in support of rail safety!

FIRST RESPONDERS SHARED SAFETY TIPS FOR VIRTUAL OPERATION CLEAR TRACK

Operation Clear Track — a national rail safety law enforcement initiative with Amtrak, law enforcement agencies nationwide, and state Operation Lifesaver programs — is conducted each year as part of Rail Safety Week.

For the fourth annual Operation Clear Track event in 2020, most in-person events were replaced with a virtual initiative that mobilized hundreds of law enforcement representatives and first responders across the country delivering simultaneous rail safety messages on Tuesday, September 22. Emergency responders were also invited to share rail safety resources and to take part in Operation Clear Track 2020 through social media messaging, rail safety videos and posting online safety tips for drivers and pedestrians.

More than 300 police departments, sheriff's offices, state and local Offices of Emergency Management and other first responders participated across the U.S.

RAIL SAFETY WEEK 2020 EMPHASIZED VIRTUAL MESSAGING AND SOCIAL MEDIA

Due to the coronavirus pandemic, in 2020 Rail Safety Week emphasized virtual activities and social media to connect with communities and share rail safety messages about making safe choices around trains and tracks.

OLI LAUNCHED TWO NEW VIDEOS FOR STUDENTS AND ITS FIRST ONLINE GAME FOR KIDS

Trains & Tracks

Operation Lifesaver, Inc. (OLI) transformed its safety slide presentation and book for students in grades K-2 or between the ages of 5-8, "Trains & Tracks," into a video that can be used for virtual presentations. The video introduces children to basic safety messages and train attributes, emphasizing the importance of using caution around trains and tracks. The information is presented as a story, "Train and the Whateveritwas," which incorporates key safety messages in an entertaining and engaging format.

Mainline Middle School

OLI produced a video for middle school students from its "Mainline Middle School" slide presentation, which uses emoji-like characters in a colorful, yearbook-style story line to appeal to smart phone-savvy students in grades 4-8 or ages 9-13. The video covers general safety messages, signs, signals, and trespass prevention messages.

Train Safety Savvy Online Game

A third new resource produced for ages 8-11 is "Train Safety Savvy," OLI's first online interactive game. Players join Briana, Tommy, Quentin, and Lola as they journey across the country exploring how to make safe decisions near railroad tracks and trains.

GRANT PROJECTS CONT'D

PROVIDED RAIL SAFETY RESOURCES FOR PEOPLE EXPERIENCING HOMELESSNESS AND SERVICE PROVIDERS

The “Choose Safety: Respect the Rails” campaign offers two new rail safety resources for people experiencing homelessness and their service providers and volunteers, educating these audiences about the dangers individuals may face near trains and tracks. The campaign includes an image-driven poster highlighting positive and adverse choices around railroad tracks and trains as well as an information-filled brochure for service providers and volunteers with safety tips and information for them to share.

THE POSTER AND BROCHURE CAN BE FOUND IN THE MATERIALS AREA OF THE OLI WEBSITE: OLI.ORG/MATERIALS.

LAUNCHED LOW CLEARANCE VEHICLE PSA CAMPAIGN IN ENGLISH AND SPANISH

Video and audio public service announcements (PSAs) in 15, 30 and 60 second versions were produced and distributed to provide important crossing safety information in a concise way to drivers of low-ground clearance vehicles, such as recreational vehicles, drivers pulling trailers, commercial bus drivers and professional truck drivers.

THEY CAN BE FOUND IN THE MATERIALS AREA OF THE OLI WEBSITE: OLI.ORG/MATERIALS.

Photos: Screenshots from the 60-second English and 30-second Spanish video PSAs.

PRODUCED VIRTUAL RESOURCE TO EDUCATE NEW DRIVERS

Operation Lifesaver, Inc. (OLI) created a new, virtual tool from its most-used in-person safety presentation and tailored it specifically for new drivers. "In the Interest of Safety," a video, reviews the signs and signals drivers encounter before railroad crossings, offers tips on how to be prepared to cross safely, and talks about what to do if a vehicle is stalled or stuck on the tracks. A virtual facilitator's guide was also produced to enable volunteers to use the new video most effectively in an online setting.

THE VIDEO CAN BE FOUND IN THE MATERIALS AREA OF THE OLI WEBSITE: OLI.ORG/MATERIALS.
